NWT labour forecast: 5 takeaways

Of all the report's takeaways, the most important seems to be this: the direction the territory's economy is heading and the educational outcomes of its residents do not align...Read more

Are you reading the wrong books?

For most, the love of books starts in childhood. For others, this love blooms later, eventually revealing the vibrant colors of a true bibliophile! But science has started looking into the effects of reading on the brain... Read more

New research trial underway to get every toddler talking

Researchers are looking at a ground-breaking way to help Victoria babies and toddlers fully develop their communication and language skills, setting them up for success in later life...Read more

Equal education funding gets big results on Manitoba reserve

Zero per cent. In June 2010, that was the proportion of Aboriginal Grade 1 students studying at a reserve school in Manitoba who were reading at grade level. As for Grade 2? Another bagel: zero per cent. Same for Grade 3. And Grade 4? Three per cent-literally one child in a class of more than 30...Read more
