A poem a day makes me happy

April is National Poetry Month. For the first time I'm paying attention, due entirely to the Yellowknife Public Library poem-a-day newsletter.

You don't have to live in Yellowknife. Megan Clark will send a poem-a-day to any NWT resident. Megan, the Public Services Librarian, will send one or two poems to your email inbox each day in April...Read more

We're the family, youth and adult literacy and essential skills centre for excellence.

We support literacy and essential skills in all the official languages of the Northwest Territories.

We're also plain language specialists.

Announcements and Events

Still time to enter our Indigenous Languages Month contest

The deadline for our photo/video contest for Indigenous Languages Month is April 23. Please send photos or videos of your Indigenous language role model. Tell us how their language has opened doors for them - at work, on the land, to their culture, etc.

Community Connections programs in April

Our Community Connections program has organized another women-only swim at the Ruth Inch Pool in Yellowknife on April 14 from 8:30-9:30 pm. There are other activities as well. Call Karen at 873-9262 or email karen@nwtliteracy.ca for information about programs for immigrants in Yellowknife.

Feedback on post-secondary education extended until tomorrow

The NWT Department of Education has extended the deadline for public feedback on governance of post secondary-education in the territories.

Funding

Inuvialuit fund education

The Designated Amount Fund accepts applications from organizations and individuals. It supports education to preserve and understand Inuvialuit culture, history and language, or to advance personal development. The deadline for organizations is April 13, 2018 and July 13, 2018 for individuals.

Funding for non-profits

The NGO Stabilization Fund provides short-term support to NGOs who deliver critical GNWT-funded programs and services to NWT residents. Eligible one-time costs include general management, governance, organizational development, and extraordinary operations costs. The deadline to apply is May 11, 2018.
