Literacy Dates

Canada History Week - July 1-7

NWT Literacy Week - September 25-October 1

Our Blog

This week's guest blogger is Alexander Lambrecht, president of the Northern Territories Federation of Labour.

We're the family, youth and adult literacy and essential skills centre for excellence.

We support literacy and essential skills in all the official languages of the Northwest Territories.

We're also plain language specialists.

A bank for everyone

Where would you cash your paycheque if you didn't have a bank in your community or a bank account to electronically deposit your earnings? In many remote, northern communities access to bank services are few, far, in between, and non-existent. How could this be? Keep reading and you'll find out...Read more

Announcements and Events

Have a wonderful, safe summer!

This is our last Literacy This Week for the summer. The NWT Literacy Council board and staff members wish you a wonderful summer.

In between holidays, we'll be busy preparing for NWT Literacy Week which begins on September 25, 2016. This year our theme is: Tied to Tech. We'll be looking at our relationship with technology. Also, watch for our next issue of Literacy Matters in late August.

Mayor announces one million books giveaway to ensure more children read this summer

The Chicago Public Library will give away over one million books to children across the city. The largest book giveaway ever by Chicago Public Library is intended to encourage children to read more and develop their own personal library at home this summer...Read more

National Aboriginal Day: 6 Indigenous writers to watch

To celebrate the 20th anniversary of National Aboriginal Day, CBC Books asked established Canadian authors to tell us about one or two up-and-coming Indigenous writers they think have a bright future.

And one of those new voices is from the NWT...Read more

Literacy playgrounds provide fun space for children at Winnipeg libraries

Kids don't have to keep quiet at the library anymore - at least, not when they're playing at family literacy playgrounds popping up in Winnipeg's library branches...Read more

How the history and legacy of residential schools are embedded in the NWT curriculum

Speaking as a teacher of the Northern Studies 10 module on the History and Legacy of Residential Schools pilot and of the final approved curriculum, I truly believe this is one of the most powerful courses to teach. If you work, live, eat, breathe in the NWT, the legacy of Residential Schools is part of your experience...Read more
