Training will include:

What are Skills for Success?

An overview of what Skills for Success include, and how to help youth develop their skills through programming that interests them.

Learning in the Kitchen

An interactive program, using cooking to develop Skills for Success. Participants will learn how to facilitate a program that helps youth learn to cook healthy meals, while having fun and learning Skills for Success as well.

Telling Our Stories

A technology based, digital story-telling program. Participants will learn how to lead youth in creating their own digital stories, while helping them to develop their computer use and other essential skills.

Youth Literacy Nights

A series of stand-alone activities that can be done at drop-in youth events. Participants will learn how to use short events to develop skills in youth.

Facilitation Skills

Participants will practice facilitation skills techniques, gaining confidence in facilitating a program.

Evaluation Skills

Evaluating a program is very important for improving it, and for future projects. Participants will learn techniques for evaluating their own projects, and the evaluation expectations for the Skill Builders for Youth project.

Program Planning

Participants will learn how to plan, promote and track their project. As a pair, participants will choose which project they would like to do in their community, and begin to plan it. After the training, pairs will have support from NWTLC staff to complete their planning.

Participants should come prepared with:

- ✓ An idea of which project they would like to do (Learning in the Kitchen, Telling our Stories, or Youth Literacy Nights).
- ✓ An idea of a community group who could support the project. This group would need to:
  - Receive and handle funds
  - Report to NWTLC at the end of the project
  - Possibly provide administrative support/ project space/ equipment as required by the different projects
- ✓ Potential community support for a youth literacy and essential skills project. Examples:
  - Elders who will provide guidance
  - Library will offer project space
  - School can offer computer lab access
